DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1 through 4 are objected to because of the following informalities: claim 1, line 1 has the word dielectric spelled as "diaelectric". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1 through 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claims require a "host transparent dielectric polymer matrix" with nanoparticles. This limitation of the polymer matrix is not supported by the original specification. Applicant does disclose the use of conducting polymer matrices, and the use of polystyrene as a polymer matrix. While polystyrene may be a "host transparent dielectric polymer", applicant's disclosure of the polystyrene in the specification is not as an example of the broader genus of polymers, but as a specific polymer matrix material along with the broader conductive polymers. Therefore it is the position of the examiner that the original specification conveys that the inventor had possession of polystyrene as a matrix material, conductive polymers as a matrix material, but not the genus of "host transparent dielectric polymer" matrices. Thus the claims are deemed to have new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1 through 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lee et al. (U.S. 6,710,366).

Lee discloses nanocomposite materials with engineered properties.

Regarding claim 1, Lee discloses a nanocomposite material comprising a plurality of quantum dots, the quantum dots having a size range between 1 and 10 nm (column 13, lines 5-15). It is the position of the examiner that quantum dots of 1-10 nm in size have the same structure as non-conglomerated nanoparticles. Lee further discloses dispersing the quantum dots in a matrix material (column 21, lines 29-36) and the matrix material can be polymer materials including polystyrene (column 52, line 27). As polystyrene is the same material utilized by applicant, it is the position of the examiner that this material is a host transparent dielectric polymer matrix.

Regarding claim 2, Lee discloses the use of silicon quantum dots (column 13, lines 18-22).

Regarding claims 3 and 4, Lee discloses the quantum dots having a particular size, 1-10 nm, thus the matrix material does not allow the multiple dots to aggregate into larger quantum dots.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 through 4 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
